We are gathered here today to celebrate one of life's greatest moments, to give recognition to the worth and beauty of love, and to add our best wishes to the words which shall unite [Party 2 First Name] [Party 2 Last Name] & [Party 1 First Name] [Party 1 Last Name] in marriage.

[Party 2 First Name] you have chosen [Party 1 First Name] to be your life partner. Will you love and respect him/her? Will you be honest with him/her always? Will you stand by him/her through whatever may come? If so, answer "I will."

[Party 1 First Name] you have chosen [Party 2 First Name] to be your life partner. Will you love and respect him/her? Will you be honest with him/her always? Will you stand by him/her through what ever may come? If so, answer: "I will")

And do you both promise to make the necessary adjustments in your personal lives in order that you may live in a harmonious relationship together? If so, answer: "We do"

A reading By Walter Pinder

Everyday you live, learn how to receive love with as much understanding as you give it. Find things within yourself, then you can share them with each other. Do not fear this love. Have an open heart and a sincere mind. Be sincerely interested in each other's happiness. Be constant and consistent in your love. From this comes security and strength. All that we love deeply becomes a part of us on this day of your marriage. Try to commit yourselves fully and freely to each other.

[Party 2 First Name] and [Party 1 First Name], now we come to your vows. Saying your vows are one thing but nothing is more challenging than living them day-by-day. What you promise today must be renewed tomorrow and each day that stretches out before you. Please turn, face each other, and hold hands

Do you [Party 1 First Name] take this (woman/man) [Party 2 First Name] to be your lawfully wedded (wife/husband), to have and to hold, in sickness and in heath, to love and honor in good times and woe, for richer or poorer, keeping yourself solely unto (her/him) for as long as you both shall live? If so, answer " I DO"

Do you [Party 2 First Name] take this (man/woman) [Party 1 First Name] to be your lawfully wedded (husband/wife), to have and to hold, in sickness and health, to love and honor in good times and woe, for richer or poorer, keeping yourself solely unto (him/her) for as long as you both shall live? If so, answer " I DO "

Traditionally, the marking- of the passage to status of married couple is marked by the exchange of rings. These rings are a symbol of the unbroken circle of love. Love freely given has no beginning and no end, no giver and no receiver for each is the giver and each is the receiver. May these rings always remind you of the vows you have taken.

Please join hands and repeat after me (man first, while placing ring on proper fingers).

"With this ring, I thee wed."

Love is the reason why this day was chosen by you both to begin your lives together and love is the reason why you both will give with all your hearts for the good of each other. Love is the reason that together you will become one; one in hope; one in believing in life; one in sharing the coming years.

Love alone is capable of uniting living beings in such a way as to complete and fulfill them, for it alone takes them and joins them by what is deepest in themselves. Now as you [Party 1 First Name] and you [Party 2 First Name] have consented together in matrimony and have pledged your faith to each other by the giving and receiving of these rings, I now pronounce you - (husband and wife, married, spouses).

Now the ceremony is over and the experience of living day by day as married people is about to begin. Go forth to meet it, gladly, love life so it will love you. May many blessings be with you.

You may seal your vows with a kiss.

I am pleased to present to you Mr. & Mrs. [Party 1 Last Name]
